

5/12/26

For 38 years I lived for myself, running on my own will doing what I wanted without truly trusting God. I believed in Him but I was afraid to surrender my life to Him. I was too attached to my own desires and habits. That life left me empty, restless, and searching^R for something more.

On August 1st 2017, everything changed. I got on my knees and cried out to God asking for forgiveness and for His help. In that moment He met me, I felt His mercy and grace in a way I never had before. I was forgiven and I received salvation through Jesus Christ. Since that day I've known my life has a new purpose guided by Him, filled with hope and love.
